GENDER EQUALITY

“How important it is for us to recognize and celebrate our heroes and she-roes!”
– Maya Angelou

With so much attention paid to the issue of gender equality in recent years, you might expect progress to have ensued. However, according to recent researches the "uncontrolled gender pay gap, which takes the ratio of the median earnings of women to men without controlling for various compensable factors, has only decreased by $0.07 since 2015. In 2020, women make only $0.81 for every dollar a man makes.”

Agmin Italy Management is strongly committed to support gender equality in the workplace. We do believe that in business, gender equality must be promoted by granting equal treatment and access of female and male employees to opportunities and company resources. This includes employers providing equal opportunities and consideration for promotions; pay raises; desirable, preferred jobs; advancement, and inclusion in decision-making processes.

In the strive for gender equality, a top priority is also given to gender-inclusive language. Language has a key role in shaping cultural and social attitudes and therefore we do believe that using gender-inclusive language is a fundamental way to promote gender equality.
